Tell me about yourself?

My name is Brisa Colón I am 3rd year broadcast journalism major at Cal State Fullerton I'm very passionate about journalism I'm passionate about news I'm also very passionate about fashion the environment sustainability and yeah, I just like to spend my time with my friends and family and that's a little bit about me.

Name 3 words to describe yourself.

Mmm that's hard... I don't even know words. Imma look some up let's see. I mean I would say I'm very enthusiastic, positive, and mm hardworking

Name 3 words to describe your style

I would stay very colorful thrifted and mmm boujee

How much has your style changed since high school?

Mm ALOT HAHA. My style has definitely evolved, I think in high school I was very worried about what people thought of me and what's in style and how can I look like everyone else but once I started getting into thrifting and estate sale shopping and looking on social media and realizing that fashion and style is about YOU and every single person had their own style their own look and I just started developing my own look and realizing it doesn't matter what anyone thinks about my outfit it's about how comfortable I feel in it and how amazing I think I look because it's about me and what I'm wearing and I think that's been my biggest shift. I mean I still like the same things and I like color and I've also been very daring in what I wear and more and more I've become I don't care what other people think and I just wear what makes me happy.

thinking about both of our style's freshman year, how much its evolved is crazy. i think about what u and I would talk about wearing and I'm like bro i would never wear that again.

Looking back, I would wear skinny jeans and crop tops from Forever 21 and o don't know just like chunti clothes but now both of us are daring and we just wear what we want and that's king of the whole point and I think it makes it so much cooler

Who inspires your style?

it's not just one person but the people come to mind are the Kardashians if I'm being real LOL, I think Kim Kardashian is my number one style icon like everything she wears I think for our entire generation it become a trend, but I feel like I personally look at her style and really at times try to emulate it because so genuinely love it. I think Kendall Jenner is very fashionable and she's a trend setter, everyone in the Kardashian family inspires me in a different way and I take pieces that I like from each of them I kind of make it my own but yea I would say the Kardashians are my style icons.

Where do you find your inspiration?

I think I find a lot of my inspiration on Instagram, Tik Tok, Pinterest, on a lot of different social media sites like Just from different people whether it be a friend of mine like you Emily or whether it be another celebrity or some girl I see that I don't even know I just pick and choose from different people and I think that inspires me a lot. I think personally Tik Tok has really inspired my style I've been watching it lately and seeing all the spring and summer trends and trying to buy things to see what I'm going to buy this summer

When do u think u realized that u liked expressing yourself through your clothes?

I feel like before we would wear whatever would look cool, but I think there's a difference between that and expressing yourself.

I definitely think freshman year like you said I was trying to look cool but once I started thrifting and going to estate sales and started second hand shopping and that's when I realized I can take this piece that people normally wouldn't wear and make it look cool and I can put it on and people will be like oh where'd u get that and I can be like well I thrifted it ya know, that was something that changed my outlook on fashion and made me realize oh I don't have to wearing an expensive shirt from Pac Sun or an expensive shirt from urban outfitters to have style I can have style and look cool while thrifting, that definitely changed my outlook on style and my style completely

What's your favorite item of clothing right now?

Right now?! Ha-ha it changes a lot. Oo can I say two things

The first thing that comes to mind that I'm obsessed with right now is trucker hats like I recently bought like 5 trucker hats and I don't know what it is, but I think they're so cute for summer and wearing hats is really in right now like with a bathing suit or going out. AND I revelry thrifted a pair of cowboy boots and I've been looking for them everywhere and I find them all the time but they're never in my size and I went to a flea market a couple weeks ago and they were only 25 dollars, they're my new favorite thing, I haven't worn them yet but I'm thinking of how I'm going to style them

What's makes you the most comfortable in clothing?

I think what makes me feel the most comfortable is feeling secure if I feel as if my outfit fits me right, making clothes fit you correctly makes a big difference for example I hemmed these pair of pants and now they fit me well they make me feel more comfortable and making clothes tailored to you and fit well I think is important

What do you stay away from wearing and why?

I stay away from clothes that are yak know a little risky or extra sometimes because yak know either because my parents wouldn't prefer me wearing it or sometimes, I must think of my career in the future and realize that I can't really post pictures in clothes I would like to go out at night in because it not as appropriate. I try to wear cute but appropriate clothes so ya know it's better, but you know I always wear whatever I want just maybe I won't post it

What trends do u want to last that are happening right now?

I love acrylic rings, I am obsessed with them, I collect them. I don't know what it is those big or colorful rings and I hope they never go away because I feel like I'm wearing a shitty outfit and I put them on and suddenly, I'm Bella Hadid suddenly, I look fire as hell, any kind of jewelry or like the beaded necklaces or pearls I love that, I'm loving the jewelry trend right now and how everyone's wearing colorful crazy jewelry. That's really what I love and what I hope will never go away, it's so different and idk other than that is bright colors and I know everyone's experimenting with it for spring and summer, but I always wear it and love it, I don't know wearing black all the time is boring

What style do u see coming back soon?

I feel like it's already coming back but the first thing that comes to my mind is y2K, wearing low rise clothes wearing rhinestones, wearing halter tops things that are a little more Paris Hilton in the 2000s. The 2000s vibes are coming back, and people are loving them like a juicy tracksuit, things like that are coming back and people are wearing that and to foresee in the future I really don't know but I think everything vintage and everything throwback is very in especially when I go to flea market, you buy a vintage shirt for like 100 dollars, they're only charging that much because it's coming back.

During covid have you bought more or less clothes?

Give or take more but also kind of the same because I always buy a lot of clothes and I always got shopping but I think more because I started my own resale store and for that I would go shopping a lot and I would need things to post so I would go to flea markets thrift store estate sales and just buy and thrift a lot, I think that's kind of been my outing too because going to the mall indoors isn't the safest option but going to a flea market outdoors makes me feel a little safer and I get to go out and they're usually on the weekends when I have some free time with my friends or my brother. For the most part that's been my mode of shopping although I've been doing some online shopping as well recently ple so I was line perfect I can sell some of the stuff and get it out of my closet because I have way too much but also showcase my style and share it with others AND on top of that being sustainable because I'm really passionate about being sustainable and helping the environment and buying from someone else or buying from second hand is better than buying from a fast fashion company because their practices aren't as great for the environment or for their workers and I don't want to support brands like that. Buying from other people or second hand is just a better way to buy and better for others. So, then I started cool.2.be. kind and it's grown a lot actually and it's been awesome, I didn't think it was going to be as big as it got, I thought it was just going to be my friends or a really small group of people that would just look and see what I posted but it ended up being bigger than I ever imagined. It's been hard during the school year to keep it up but I'm so busy with school and other things but I'm going to try and start it up again in the summer or whenever I have breaks and I have a lot of stuff growing and I even did a pop up which is really really fun I set up at this mini flea market a lot of my other friends came , and it was really fun and a great experience to see people and do what I love and I think it's really great to share my style with others in that way and it basically like I'm a personal shopper for my friends I really love it.

Now I want to talk a little bit about your whole business that you have, cool.2.be.kind. So, what made you want to start it?

Lemme, think I don't even remember ha-ha. I think the main thing is because I had a lot of clothes and back when I was in the dorms I had a double closet because I was an RA and I had the whole room to myself and when I came back home to my small closet

I realized uh oh I have way too much stuff and I was like well I need to seek this or give it away and I also noticed that a lot of girls really would ask me where I got slog of my clothes on social media, I told them ya know I got it at an estate sale, I got it thrifting and I could never really direct them on where they could purchase it and I felt bad because I don't want to gatekeeper and I want to share my style and share my stuff with peo-

Will you keep it as something on the side of your career?

I do I fell in love with it as soon as I started because I just saw people like my style, and I was like WOA people think what I picked out is cool? I thought it was so odd to think people thought what I would go thrift was something they wanted too, it was so fun to shop and essentially, I'm shopping for myself because I never want to sell anything I personally wouldn't wear. I do see myself doing it on the side And I was even thinking of opening my own little thrift store or something to do for fun if I even have the time but it's something I want to continue doing because I love it so much.

I'm so proud of you and everything you're doing right now and another thing you've done is Trendy Titan and now the school recognizes it too, do you want to talk a little bit about that?

I would say Trendy Titan is my number one baby, my first-born child LOL You've seen it from the literal beginning and bring it to where it is now. Trendy titan is basically combining my love for fashion and journalism and it stemmed from wanting to highlight my peers, the people from Cal State Fullerton, who I would see walking and think wow their outfit is fire oh my god they have such good style, it came from wanting to take videos of them at school and now it's turned I to this whole Instagram where I spotlight my fellow peers and highlight their style and individuality and make it a space where everyone can appreciate one another for our differences I purposely show people who have their own style and " dress outside the norm" because I think that's so cool that they have the courage to do that and really be themselves and that was the whole purpose and it's kind of evolved into talking about trends where I started this new thing called trendy titan tv where I talk about trending entertainment stories and fashion and different topics that I think interest my peers and it's kind of become a space where people that love fashion, love entertainment, and go to Cal State Fullerton can come and just enjoy the content i create, it's been really rewarding and I definitely put a lot of hard work into it, like hours and hours of editing and filming organizing and planning but it's been worth it and one of the things I'm most proud of so far in college that I've done it's my favorite thing.

DIEGGS

Tell me who you are?

Hi, my name is Diego Vazquez I am a 3rd year soon to be fourth communications pr major with a minor in marketing and I am one snazzy dude and my outfits I think show off my bombastic personality my very colorful cooky personality

Goofy
Shit I don't know
Funny? I don't like saying that though cause idk
What am I?
you're fabulous

Name 3 words to describe your style

I'd say Bold
Unique
And uhm I guess just colorful

How much have you changed from high school to now, regarding your personal style and how it correlates to who you are

Well, I guess it would be that in high school my style was very much, well I was that guy that only get like Zumiez clothing, like very basic standard skate stuff, but I guess that was me just tryna be cool. I feel like once I came out and went to college and did all that I feel like I kind of developed my lil own personality and own little characteristics and I feel like that translates well into my outfits where it's like a lot more unique and different. Ya know I don't stick to the status quo, and yea I think that's how I've changed I was just very much uhh idk just pretty basic in high school, yea now I've - I've transcended, I'm pretty much a big deal

Would you ever wear anything you wore prior to finding your own personal style?

Shit id maybe wear like a rip 'n dip shirt as maybe a pajama shirt
Me: okay but as an outfit
As an outfit nahhh I wouldn't wear that unless like for some reason that's all I had and my whole wardrobe burned in a fire and all I had was my clothes from high school I guess I'd wear it but nah I would choose not to wear it, I gotta get the unique pieces!

How much of your style has changed?

I was a kid that would always wear a lot of bold stuff and I liked graphics and when I was in elementary I would just wear a lot of colorful stuff and when I got to high school for some reason I just shoved that to the side because

I thought nah that's now what the people want but no ya know what for me personally I love that shit that's why now I do graphics but In elementary school I'd always wear the adventure time shirt you would get at hot topic or like kohls but then again now I'm like a vintage kind of guy. Getting very different graphics so I guess I'm just an elevated version of what I would wear I elementary school which is where I was happiest with my outfits. Dude I remember I was so sad because there was like a teen titans shirt I wanted from Hot Topic, and they had every size except mine and I had a break down in the hot topic and my mom was like "really Diego? can you calm down?", and I realized I was being a little dramatic, I was like 9 or 10, I was a dramatic kid I'm sorry, they were the teen titan characters but they were chibi anime and I was like ugh that so unique and kewl.

Do you think your sexuality influences your style and how you've changed it?

I don't think me choosing bold things had to do with my sexuality... well maybe I mean me coming out had made me more confident I think I was just prone to wear color stuff. I think it's more based from my personality rather than my sexuality. I've always just been into that stuff though; I mean who isn't now. If we go back to Fullerton and you see me wearing just a plain navy-blue check and some jeans, you'd be like Diego what the fuck I could not picture u wearing a V-neck dude I used to rock v-necks when I was transitioning to my graphics to more basic stuff, I had so many fucking V-neck from American eagle

Notttt American Eagle

it might have not even been there it might have been Aeropostale
bro that's worse

“ I had a breakdown in the Hot Topic and my mom was like “really Diego? Can you calm down?” ”

Who or what inspires your style?

I don't really know if there's a specific person who then again but again, I just really love cartoons. When I was a kid, I fucked with them so hard and I was always in to KAPOW graphic like that kind of thing, wearing them slowly evolved into me liking color and just being fun, that blended into what I would wear. If we're talking specific style or background, I did like skater clothes, my first rip n dip tee ya know the cat with the middle fingers, it made me feel like people were embracing the kind of cartoony bold patter and I was like Oo I like that I would dive into different brands like birdhouse skateboards and like hookups where they have the little anime school-girls with the tits spilling out HAHA. So, I guess the skater group, vintage skate wear old school vintage tees. I want a vintage Betty Boop t-shirt

Where do you look for inspiration?

I also just go to thrift stores and see what I can find and that's where you're going to find more unique stuff. It was easier when we could go in the dressing rooms and see what works with what

When did u realize when you liked fashion and getting into clothes?

Again, I feel like when I got into it with graphic tees. There's a short period of time like 678 when you just kind of wear what your parents buy you and you're like oh well I'll just be forced to wear this, but once I started seeing shirts with cartoons I liked or really sick patterns and I was like oh so this was made for me and that's when I started looking out for clothes and that fits my style, hot topic was definitely the blue print for my stuff when I was younger and now I'm looking forward to the future with expensive graphic tees. I want to be able to rock like an old school invaders T-shirtw from Hot Topic or like a domo t-shirt, I should bring that back

not the domo

domo with a mustache, that shit would be kind of iconic don't even lie

That kind of would if you wore a domo t-shirt in 2021 with like some corduroy pants

I'd have to style it right but tell me why I might start a revolution, people are going to be searching for that shit left and right I WONDER IF THEY HAVE ANY SELLING ON THE INTERNET LIKE EBAY they probably do and for like 2 dollars This was an interview now it's turning into an investigation,

What is your favorite item of clothing right now?

Uhm what is my favorite item of clothing, I need to think about that, that's HARD, Jesus how are you going to do this to me, probably ya know like the little Mickey Mouse Puerto Vallarta That I'm wearing in the photoshoot. Just the color I love me a little apricot number, again I just love vintage tees and a little Disney one yes please, it's literally made for me and I got it in Fullerton, and I want to go back to memos, they turned it around when it comes to my wardrobe

What makes the most comfortable as far as clothing goes, like what's your go to outfit?

My go to outfit is a nice xl tee it's not too snug on my body it perfectly loose but it's flowy a nice loose pant, I hate a skinny pant I fucking- you asked me what makes me comfortable but imma tell u what makes me u comfortable because first off I thought imma wear all these skinny pants to high school then I realized all I have is skinny khakis and black pants and I tried wearing that, that shit made me uncomfortable as fuck. So ya know a nice flowy loose pant a good dickies moment, ya know like a cropped urban pant I like feeling free and flowy. Anything that lets my body breathe. I just think right clothing is not the future we're looking for, like say the perfect president was running and they were wearing skinny pants I just fucking wouldn't vote, I don't trust people with the anymore.

Parents get a pass though they're trying their best This is what I'm going to get this is going to be the ultimate fit I'm going to get the f*cking Domo shirt the, f*cking skinny purple Levi jeans and I'm going to get the converse that tie all the way to the knee like willow smith in the whip my hair video, all the way to her eyebrows. Being a kid though like how are going to get into the bounce house if you're taking twenty minutes taking off your converse

What trend that happening right now do you want to last whether you wear it or not?

I think just embracing older styles, needs to stay around Weber come to a point where a lot of style has been kind of stagnant, like I want to get Nike air max 97 or Reebok c85s. Like these shoes that are popular right now in the past are coming back. I think embracing older designs should stay around because they are timeless

During covid have u bought more or less clothes?

I feel like I've bought more but stir some reason it's felt like less, because every time I f*cking buy something my mom is line please stop idk I just think because of the pandemic I've lost all sense of f*cking time so actually I don't know When we go back to Fullerton, I'm probably going to have a whole ass new wardrobe and I'm going to be line what I'm going to be like Oo is that Diego? Everyone f*cking stops and stares and they put their books and phones down and are like "is that Diego? gasp gasp" And then everyone cheers

Everyone f*cking stops and stares and they put their books and phones down and they're like "is that Diego? gasp gasp" And then everyone cheers ”

JLO

“Year after year I prove to myself all the things I can do for myself and seek less validation from others and find confidence in all the little things I can do.”

Tell me who u are

My name is Jennifer Lopez and I'm 21 years old

Name three words to describe yourself

3 words I'd use to describe myself would be open-minded, sensitive, and impulsive

Name three words to describe your style

Describing my style is definitely hard because I don't necessarily have just one but 3 words, I'd use are bold, random, extra

How much have u changed since high school to now?

Since high school I feel like I've become a lot more confident in myself. During high school I'd get put down a lot by my peers and family for my bad grades and having little drive to do good in school. Year after year I prove to myself all the things I can do for myself and seek less validation from others and find confidence in all the little things I can do.

How much of your style has changed since high school?

My style since high school is completely different since I grew up with 2 brothers and their hand me downs. My sense of style came from my brothers and I just enjoyed wearing baggy clothes to hide the insecurities of my body. It definitely became a part of me and what I wear today even though it's completely different. Now I definitely more confident in my femininity and showing my skin. Every once in a while, I recreate outfits from high school with a touch of my personality from now. Plus, the way I dress now is how my high school self always wanted to dress, but now I finally have the money to do it.

Who inspires your style?

I wouldn't say anyone in specific influences my style but some people whose style I love is @katiexyi & @galanikolic on Instagram where do you like to look for inspiration?

I look for inspiration in pieces themselves. Sometimes I'll love one piece of clothing so much I'll buy whole outfit to style around that piece. Whether it be some shoes I love or a cute hat, I dress around that piece of clothing. Some outfits came from finding a pair of shoes I just needed to have.

When did u realize you liked fashion and expressing yourself through clothes?

It was definitely when I realized how much clothes says to me about someone. To me someone's clothes always spoke to me about them without knowing them at all. Fashion lets me express a form of myself to people without having to say anything. Obviously not everyone will agree with my outfits or interpret them the way I'm hoping what's your favorite item of clothing right now?

I love these black platform heels. They're something I never realized I wouldn't wanted until I got them, and I have so many exciting outfits planned in my head with them. I might break my ankles wearing them but that's part of the fun. Plus, they'll make any simple outfit look all fancy. They make me feel like a Bratz doll

What makes you the most comfortable?

I feel comfortable in the outfits that make me look cute.

What do you stay away from wearing and why?

I try to stay away from mom outfits I don't want to look like anyone's mom or look more like an old lady than I already do

What trends do u want to last?

Definitely the emo/scene girl trend I've been seeing I'm all for it and will forever want to live out my middle school scene girl dreams

I THINK JOGGERS AND ROSHES WERE A GREAT COMBO. I CAN SEE A COMEBACK FOR THAT. HAHA

What style do u see coming back?

I think joggers and roshes were a great combo. I can see a comeback for that. HAHA

Disclaimer she's absolutely joking, and we laughed about this answer for a long time

When did U get into fashion and stylizing your wardrobe?

When I started working, I finally had money to buy myself things and it's really nice what I spend most my money on. Always buying new pieces trying to find my own personal style

During covid have u bought more or less clothes ?

I bought way more clothes. I had way more time to spend scrolling through websites looking for new pieces and not going out all the time made me more comfortable to wear whatever I want whenever I want.

“ I JUST FEEL LIKE CLOTHES MAKE YOU FEEL GOOD IN WHO YOU ARE AND CAN MAKE OR BREAK HOW CONFIDENT YOU FEEL. ”

Tell me who u are.

I am Rochelle Martinez and 3rd year at call state Fullerton studying communications in advertising with a minor in marketing and I don't know I lie to be creative ha-ha

Name three words to describe yourself

Mmm goofy, I don't know .. small? And creative

Name three words to describe your style

Uhm colorful comfortable should I do 3 cc's colorful comfortable,f*ck

MAYBE NOT 3 cc's ha-ha

Lol okay mm Interesting

How much have u changed since high school to now?

F*ck, a lot I feel like in high school I was way less confident and I'm still shy, but I don't know in high school I cared what people thought a lot more than I do now and I feel like going to college and being in the real world showed me that nobody really cares people are thinking about themselves more that they're thinking about you.

How much of your style has changed since high school?

I feel like I've always had a different style from people and wore different things that people did in school and girls would just wear basic shit lmao I was a little different and quirky ha-ha, but I don't think I would wear half the stuff I wore in high school though; I feel like I was just buying stuff that other people thought was cute plus and the trends I was following weren't my personal style. But I would try to choose things that I thought were cool and different,

Is there anything you've gone back to wearing?

Mmm I try to be more girly, I try to have a good balance and step out of my comfort zone in that realm. I am remembering thinking it wasn't cool to be girly and I kind of hate that I thought that because being girly is a power move and pink rocks and glitter rocks and it's really empowering

Who inspires your style?

That I know? Maybe Brisa or anyone that's in this magazine really, I mean I chose them for that reason if I'm being honest, they make me want to step out of the box or just grow my style with them. For Instagram I think top two would be @curlyfryfeed and @wuzg00d

Where do you like to look for inspiration?

A lot on Instagram I follow a lot of girls or people in general that wear different things or mix and match patterns and put together outfits I wouldn't think of or even Pinterest, I have a lot of Pinterest boards with things I want to wear ha-ha. Tiktok has also been a place where I get to see a lot of people's individual style and I get tips on how to build mine and pierced that are essential in someone's wardrobe

When did u realize you liked fashion and expressing yourself through clothes?

When I was like 6 ha-ha, I remember I would beg my mom to let me choose my outfits and I would wear what I wanted and like 6 or 7. Expressing more in high school because I feel like that when I was learning more about myself so towards the end like junior - senior year and a lot in the beginning of college and honestly over quarantine bc I've had a lot of time to consume fashion and kind of take a breather what's your favorite item of clothing right now?

Right now, hmm. I'm tryna think of things I wear a lot or want to wear a lot. I think maybe these * points at 1461 bex doc martins* and I like them wearing them with white crew socks it makes me feel like a preppy girl, but I like pairing it with things you don't think u would wear it with like girlier outfits or funky pants and the list goes on

What makes you the most comfortable as far as clothing?

I think something that makes me feel good or fits right on your body or anything that, well you know when u think of an outfit in your head, and you think it's going to work out, but it doesn't

Well, when it works out it's cool and it makes you feel invincible and comfortable to wear what I'm wearing

What do you stay away from wearing and why?

Maybe just like fits of things, I don't really wear a lot of scandalous things, but I think that just of security reasons and it doesn't make me feel comfortable. Maybe just like skinny jeans I don't really gravitate or want to go back to or things that make me look shorter than I already am and stubby ha-ha

What trends do u want to last?

I think bold outfits I feel like a lot of people are putting themselves out there and taking risks and wearing an either colorful patterned look with texture or just something that carries a statement. I love seeing those outfits where you're like wow I would have never thought to pair that together and I want the fit on my body right now I want to look like them. Also, accessories are a big thing I love

What style do u see coming back

Wellll, I know the 2000s are coming back, I think 70s is coming back too and maybe 80s but that's kind of sus though. I feel like because of the summer and the trends that are appearing seem very 70s and embody that especially with the bold colors and the crochet and funky patterns. AND some bell bottoms or just wide leg pants in general are dope when did you get into fashion and stylizing your wardrobe?

Well, I feel like my freshman year of college, I feel like I had a different sense of style than the average person would wear but I feel like it evolved probably within the last year. I mean I've always liked collecting pieces, but I don't know I would just always go to work, and I didn't really go out a lot of have time to do that like I would have liked

During Covid have u bought more or less clothes

I've probably ordered more clothes because I was just in the house on my laptop or phone and nothing else to do. I have the balls to press checkout and complete my order plus I've just been working a lot, so my money went there

What made you want to do this magazine?

Well, I've always had it in the back of my mind since like, well I think what sparked it was when I went to Santa Barbra prior to accepting admissions for college and they had their own little magazine and I really liked it and thought how dope it would be to do one day, I still have it to and have used it to gain inspiration for this one as well. I've always just loved fashion too and looking at their individual-

What's your favorite part of the magazine process so far?

I think obviously being with my friends was nice and I got to get out of the house, but I think also just getting into photography more because I've loved it, but I've never taken the time to learn how to use a camera in depth and gaining inspiration from others because I like seeing what other people do and how I can make it my own.

Why did you choose the people feature in this magazine, who are they?

Well there's Jlo .. Jennifer Lopez My best friend and I feel like she's very confident in what she wears, and I like that about her, and she makes different choices that I would have never thought to make, and I love her and love what she wears Brisa, my college roommate, first college roommate. I've seen how she's grown as a person and her style and career grow and I love that she's so ambitious. With her style she tries to be out of the box and sustainable and that's one of the things that she focuses on.

Diego, I don't see a lot of guys that I know personally that focus on their style and have fun with it as much as he does. I'd don't know I feel like some guys just wear whatever ha-ha, but he likes to experiment and buy cool shirts and funky pants and I love how he gets hyped about it and his personality is very much shown in his wardrobe

What is the meaning behind the magazine title?

The Reel is as I'm like we're keeping it real here but also like a reel of film like a reel of things that are in this magazine that I want to show off and that I likes and enjoy, but I feel like that's the main reason on how it's spelled but also just the fact that I want to be very authentic, and I want the people shown here to be perceived that way too.

Who do u want to read this magazine?

Anyone, anyone that like fashion or cool things and reading about people's style, creative people, people that want inspiration

What do u hope people take from reading this magazine?

I think just to not care about what people think about you and make bold choices but also feel comfortable within what you're wearing and just in life too. I just want them to relate, because I feel like clothes are something that make you feel secure even if you don't have a passion about clothes or anything like that, I just feel like clothes make you feel good in who you are and can make or break how confident you feel
